

PEOPLE OVER PROFITS

FOURTH ANNUAL

AFTERPARTY SPONSORSHIP PROSPECTUS

Afterparty for the People Over Profits Crash Course

Saturday, July 18, 2026 · Fort Lauderdale, FL

Venue to be announced

HOSTED BY

PARABOLACENTER.COM

PARABOLA CENTER FOR LAW AND POLICY

FLORIDA CANNABIS ACTION NETWORK

Parabola Center has one fight: keeping cannabis legalization in the hands of the people who built it, not the corporations trying to buy their way to the front of the line.

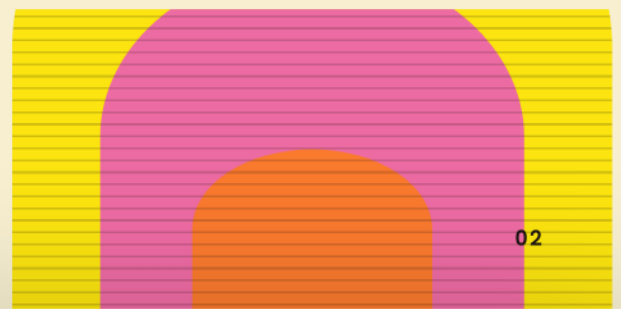

On July 18, that fight gets a room. The People Over Profits Crash Course brings together the advocates, organizers, and small operators doing the actual work, and when the sessions wrap, the afterparty is where the community gathers and celebrates.

This is an invitation to help throw that party, and to stand with the small brands and operators this night is built around.

ABOUT THE NIGHT

On July 18, Parabola Center and Florida Cannabis Action Network host the fourth annual People Over Profits Crash Course in Fort Lauderdale, a full day of free, accessible education on how cannabis gets legalized and who it actually serves. It draws the activists, operators, and advocates fighting to keep this industry out of corporate hands.

The afterparty is the piece you'd be sponsoring — the celebration where the whole crowd comes together once the sessions end. Your sponsorship throws the night and supports the organization behind it, so Parabola Center can keep writing model legislation, publishing research, and putting real tools in the hands of the communities the drug war hit hardest.

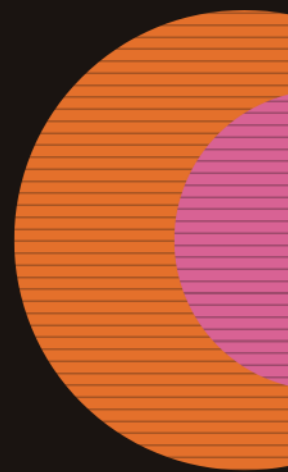

MOST SPONSORSHIPS ARE A TRANSACTION. THIS ONE RUNS DIFFERENTLY.

You write a check, your logo lands on a banner, and that's the relationship. This one runs differently, because the people you'd be reaching are the whole point of it.

The afterparty crowd is full of folks who came out to support businesses like yours, the ones putting people over profits. So the night is built to connect those people to the businesses backing it. Every sponsor gets a full page in the Meet the Sponsors packet each guest takes home, a feature in the Meet the Sponsors series on Instagram, and a thank-you during the welcome that night. Your story reaches the room whether or not you can make it in person.

Every sponsor gets the same full page in the Meet the Sponsors packet.

A dedicated space to tell your story to the room, whether you give $100 or $5,000. What each level adds comes on top of that.

200-250

CANNABIS ACTIVISTS, OPERATORS, POLICYMAKERS, AND REGULATORS.

The afterparty brings the whole event together. The 200 to 250 people who spend the day at the crash course are the same crowd that stays for the party. Add the Florida advocates who turn out because People Over Profits landed in their backyard this year, and the room is full of exactly the people a small cannabis brand wants to be in front of. They showed up because they believe in people over profits. Sponsor the night and you're the brand that helped bring them together.

THE HONOREE HOLDS THE NAME THE SPONSOR PRESENTS THE HONOR

Every level on this board is named for someone who carried cannabis through prohibition, the people who used it, fought for it, and paid for it long before any of this was legal. The grammar is deliberate: the honoree holds the name, and the sponsor presents the honor. So it reads as the Peter Tosh set, presented by [Sponsor], never as the [Sponsor] level. Your name goes behind a piece of this history, alongside the person who lived it.

LEVEL / HONOREE	WHAT IT ADDS ON TOP OF THE BASELINE	PASSES	INVESTMENT

THE COMPASSION CLUB SLIDING SCALE	Give what you can; thanked together as the night's small-business backers	1+	Up to $500

Each level below shows what it adds on top of the baseline every sponsor gets (see the next section).

PRESENTING SPONSOR · THE WHOLE NIGHT

THE LOUIS ARMSTRONG

$5,000
FOUR GUEST PASSES

Armstrong smoked cannabis nearly every day for forty years and never once apologized for it. When the law came after his family for it, he wrote his manager that he'd put his horn down before he'd give it up, and in his final months he fought to keep cannabis in his own life story when his biographers tried to erase it. The presenting sponsor puts their name on the whole night: "presented by [Sponsor]," top billing on signage, a ninety-second welcome toast, and four guest passes.

THE NAMED HONORS

$2,500 each

Four sponsors, one for each piece of the night · all four come with four guest passes.

THE BROWNIE MARY

$2,500

PRESENTS THE FOOD

Brownie Mary baked cannabis brownies for AIDS patients on San Francisco hospital wards, gave them away for free, and got arrested for it more than once. She kept baking.

THE PETER TOSH

$2,500

PRESENTS THE MUSIC

Tosh wrote "Legalize It" in 1976, then lit a spliff on stage in front of Jamaica's prime minister and called legalization a human right. He took a police beating for living what he sang.

THE BILLIE HOLIDAY

$2,500

PRESENTS THE PHOTO MOMENT

Holiday was hounded by Harry Anslinger's narcotics agents for years, all the way to her hospital deathbed.

THE DENNIS PERON

$2,500

PRESENTS THE PARTING GIFT

Peron ran a buyers club to get cannabis to the dying through the AIDS crisis and helped write Prop 215, the law that made California the first medical cannabis state. He fought its commercialization for the rest of his life.

THE TOD MIKURIYA$1,000

TWO GUEST PASSES

Mikuriya was a psychiatrist who walked away from the government's cannabis research program to stand with patients instead, then helped draft the text of Prop 215. Comes with the option of a product display table to show your work and talk with guests through the night, plus two guest passes.

THE LEGACY$500

TWO GUEST PASSES

Honors the people who grew and sold cannabis before any of it was legal, the ones who built the market while carrying the full weight of a drug war aimed, by design, at Black and brown communities. Legacy sponsors are named one by one in the welcome thank-you, plus two guest passes.

THE COMPASSION CLUBUp to $500

SLIDING SCALE · ONE GUEST PASS

Named for the underground clubs of the AIDS years that got cannabis to the sick for whatever they could pay, and often for nothing. The sliding scale runs in that same spirit: give what you can, name your own number up to $500. Compassion Club sponsors are thanked together as the night's small-business backers, with one guest pass and more on request.

WHAT EVERY SPONSOR GETS

Every sponsor, down to the smallest, starts from the same foundation. Each level builds on top of it:

- Your logo on all afterparty materials and on the website
- A spot on the event page and in the event emails
- Sponsor signage at the event
- A full page in the Meet the Sponsors packet
- A feature in the Meet the Sponsors series on Instagram
- A thank-you during the welcome at the afterparty
- A thank-you in the post-event social wrap-up

THE MEET THE SPONSORS PACKET

This is the piece that keeps people at the center of the night. Every guest leaves with the packet, one page per sponsor: who you are, your story, what you make, and how to find you. The same stories run as a series on Instagram in the weeks around the event, so the introduction doesn't end when the night does. Whether or not you can be in the room, the people there get to know your business by name.

EVERY DOLLAR GOES BACK INTO THE FIGHT.

This isn't just a party with a tab to cover. The afterparty is a fundraiser, and what you give funds the work itself: the free crash courses, the model legislation, the resources Parabola gets into the hands of small operators and advocates who can't afford a lobbyist. Every dollar goes back into the fight to keep this industry from being swallowed by corporate interests.

That's the real return on a sponsorship here. Your business reaches the room, and your money funds the case against corporate cannabis, which puts you squarely on the side of the people building the alternative.

COMING ON BOARD

If this is your kind of night, here's how it works. Pick the level that fits, or name your own number on the sliding scale, and reach out. We handle the rest: getting your logo and story into the materials, building your page in the packet, and making sure you're recognized the way your level calls for.

Spots are limited, especially the named levels, since there's only one of each. Reach out by July 14 so we have time to get you into everything before the night.
